Is your company using too many RESOURCES searching for the right professionals for the job instead of focusing on your core business?

StaffMe.net is focused on providing the right professionals and technology to commercial businesses and governmental agencies with staff augmentation services for administrative, clerical, Information Systems and Technology (IS and IT), medical, Architectural and Engineering (A&E), and many other needs...

StaffMe.net provides the best creative and customized staff augmentation solutions to meet the challenges of your company's dynamic environment.

Providing the Right People

Our Company provides the right people to commercial businesses and governmental agencies as well as many other staff augmentation needs.

A Quick and Candid Response

Our resource managers discuss your organization's requirements at length and extensively qualify all of our candidates. The position(s) – contract or direct-hire – must be filled with the right candidate(s) the first time!

A Seamless Fit

All employees conform to client company policies, practices and procedures while under contract. We carry General Liability, Workers' Compensation, and abide by all federal, state and local tax regulations.

Flexible Billing

StaffMe.net's billing system provides your company the flexibility needed for invoicing. We provide authorized timesheets and travel receipts with our invoices for support and justification.

What We Do

- Provide professionals with security clearances
- Furnish employee benefits
- Supply online sexual harassment training
- Collect and monitor time worked
- Secure payroll funding for contractors
- Compute payroll amounts, withholdings, process payroll checks, pay all employees

We provide your company with a wide range of hiring options. This makes it easy to place the positions needed for the specified time required. If the requirements change, we offer flexibility to change with your company's needs as they occur.

Contract Only

Acquire the resources your company needs on a project basis as needed. Is your team behind on a deliverable? We can help. Call us now!

Contract with the Option to Hire

This option is available should a contract employee have the qualifications needed to become a direct-hire employee.

Direct-Hire Employees

We guarantee our placements for a predetermined duration. If your company is not satisfied with the candidate's performance, we will either replace the candidate or refund a portion of the fee.

Placement and Contracts

StaffMe.net interviews all applicants and conducts extensive testing and screening for all potential contractors prior to placement. This allows your company to maintain focus on its core business.

Value-Added Contracting

Our Company prefers to use Service Level Agreements (SLAs) to clearly articulate and manage your organization's expectations prior to filling job orders. We act as a liaison in order to resolve any issues that may arise between your company and the contractor.

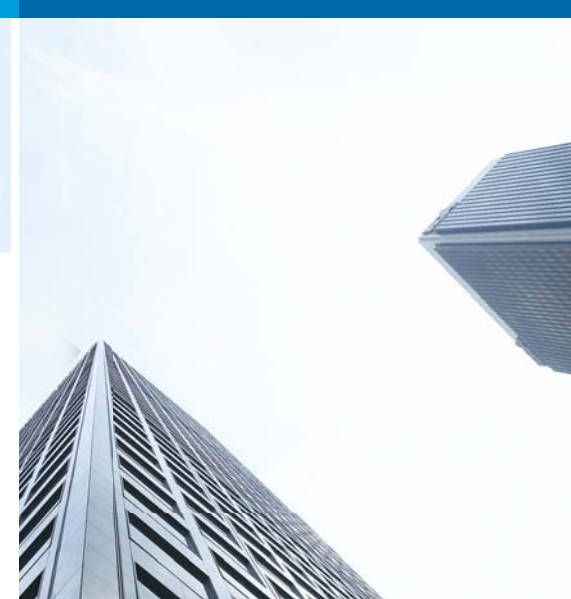

Three Critical Success Factors to Staff Augmentation

Executive leadership strengthens the interaction between management and the employees of the client's organization. A strong executive commitment is required to secure organizational buy-in from the client's organization.

Partner alignment strengthens the interaction between the client and provider at the executive level, ensuring goals and objectives of both organizations support each other.

Relationship management strengthens the interactions between the client and provider at the operational level. A smooth and constructive daily interaction between client and provider at the operational level is crucial to achieving the expectations of the staff augmentation arrangement.

These factors are essential for the successful execution of the staff augmentation arrangement.
